

May 2015

www.28dayslateranalysis.com/2015/05/the-hollow-one-occupies-whole-town.html

THE VOICE OF HORROR

HOME REVIEWS FILM NEWS TELEVISION UPCOMING TITLES SOCIAL AMAZON

28 DAYS LATER ANALYSIS - WRITERS

Michael Allen

PARTNERS

The Hollow One Occupies a Whole Town: First Trailer

Monday, May 11, 2015 Michael Allen No comments

Tweet 2 Like 5 +1 3 15 points on reddit

The Hollow One has an official trailer. The clip shows people changed into something monstrous. This film is set to debut at the Seattle International Film Festival. The premiere date is set for May 27th, with a second showing scheduled for Thursday, May 28th, 2015. As well, the film stars Kate Alden, Jesse James and Chelsea Farthing. The film's official trailer is hosted here.

From the synopsis, Rachel loses her mother. Devastated, Rachel returns to her hometown, to find everything very different. Her father is missing and so are the locals. Now, Rachel must investigate an ancient evil, to find the source of her community's destruction.

A fan page for the film is available here:
The Hollow One on Facebook

Subscribe to 28 Days Later: An Analysis Email Subscription

Posted in: 2015 cast crew horror movie preview movie poster preview story synopsis trailer

+3 including You

The trailer tells more of the film's story. A voice ominously states: "Rachel, help me." Meanwhile, characters are devolving into something black and hideous. Will Rachel survive? Horror fans can find out for themselves in just a couple of weeks. The trailer looms below.

Release Date: 27 May 2015 (Limited Theatrical).

Director/writer: Nathan Hendrickson.

Cast: Kate Alden, Jesse James and Chelsea Farthing.

A trailer for the film is available here:

